

Maggie is a highly accomplished dancer, choreographer, and instructor with over two decades of competitive and professional experience. Her early training led to numerous honors, including Pulse Convention Scholarships from Brian Friedman and Cris Judd, Missouri's Dance Idol, Symposium's Terpsichorean, Minnesota State Fair Amateur Talent Contest Winner, Jr. Miss Showbiz, Miss Starpower, and Young Miss of America. She knows the competition world well and loves preparing young artists for it!

Maggie holds a Bachelor of Fine Arts in Dance and Bachelors Degree in Business from Webster University, where she founded, coached, and performed with the University Dance Team. For many years, Maggie continued her professional development through training in a variety of styles and performance opportunities across the United States.

Returning to Minneapolis, Maggie launched her performance career. She has been featured in Macy's Glamorama, performing with Big and Rich at the Orpheum and Chicago State Theatre, toured with Kat Perkins, and performs at The Chanhassen Dinner Theatre. She was a lead impersonator/performer in Mythology, a model and dancer for JAFA and RAFA, and recently shared her choreography and artistic talents in One Story. In 2012, she founded M-SHE Productions, a dance-theatre company. Through her company, she has produced seven full-length original works, performed for leading arts organizations, festivals, and corporate events, and was named a RAW Artists of Minnesota.

Maggie is a respected educator, choreographer, and performer whose students have earned national titles, high-point awards, encore performances, and scholarships. She serves as a competition judge throughout the Midwest. She continues to perform, while teaching at various studios and coaching at schools throughout the Twin Cities and remains deeply committed to inspiring the next generation of artists.

As Maggie shares:

"Passion drives artistry. We all have a shot at our dreams, which float amongst the clouds. Our efforts to be our best is something to be proud of from one sunrise to the next."
